OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S SECRETARY, CANADA

SIR,—I have the honour to inform you that His Excellency the Governor General will arrive at the Main Entrance of the Houses of Parliament at 3 p.m. on Thursday the 28th January, 1943, and when it has been signified that all is in readiness, will proceed to the Senate Chamber to open the Fourth Session of the Nineteenth Parliament of Canada.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. S. REDFERN,

Secretary to the Governor General.

The Honourable
The Speaker of the Senate,
Ottawa.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

The Senate adjourned during pleasure.

After a while, His Excellency the Governor General having come, and being seated on the Throne,—

The Honourable the Speaker commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that,—

It is His Excellency the Governor General's pleasure that they attend him immediately in the Senate Chamber.

The House of Commons being come,

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to open the Session by a Gracious Speech to both Houses, as follows:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

As you enter upon your duties at the beginning of this New Year, you will be heartened by the improved position of the United Nations.

In the first year of war, most of the countries of Europe lost their freedom and became the victims of Nazi occupation and oppression. In the second year, Italy, already at war, joined her power with that of Germany in an effort to seize new territories in Africa, as well as in Europe. In the third year, Japan entered the world conflict in the expectation of becoming the master of the Orient. These actions disclosed the pre-arranged schedule of world domination planned by the Axis powers. Each, at the appointed time, sprang upon its unoffending neighbours.

During these years, the nations which were attacked, and others still enjoying freedom, were necessarily on the defensive. For three years, the free nations continued to gather strength, at the same time affording such mutual aid, one to the other, as opportunity permitted.

In their attempt at world conquest, the forces of aggression still continue their campaigns of terror and violence. The world scene, however, has vastly changed from what it was a year ago. Enemy forces, everywhere, have been halted by stubborn and successful resistance. In many parts of the world, the Allied powers have taken the offensive.

At Casablanca, in North Africa, a meeting, unprecedented in history, has just been concluded between the Prime Minister of Great Britain and the President of the United States. During their conference, they were in communication with the Premier of the Soviet Union and the Generalissimo of China. At the conference, the leaders of Great Britain and the United States, both military and civil, agreed on a war plan for 1943 designed to maintain the initiative in every theatre of war.

In the Western Hemisphere, the peoples now present a virtually united front against the Axis powers.

The Government has maintained close relations with the nations with which Canada is united in the common struggle. Direct diplomatic representation has strengthened our relations with China and the Soviet Union, and with the several Allied Governments now temporarily resident in the United Kingdom. The establishment of diplomatic missions to nations of the Americas is broadening the friendly relations between those countries and Canada.

Our armed forces are on active service in all parts of the world. Their strength has been steadily increased. They are equipped with the most modern and efficient weapons of war. In actual combat, they have served with distinction and gallantry.

In the present year, the progressive expansion of the Navy will be continued. The Army program will include the maintenance and reinforcement of the overseas army of two corps, and the maintenance of units and formations required for the territorial and coastal defence of Canada and other areas in the Western Hemisphere. The Air Force will continue its three-fold activities of air training, patrolling our coasts and coastal waters, and sharing in aerial combat overseas. Increased responsibilities will be assumed for the maintenance of Canadian airmen and Canadian squadrons serving abroad.

As an integral part of Canada's total war effort, ships, aircraft, weapons, munitions and other supplies will continue to be provided, not only for Canada's forces, but in vast quantities as well for the forces of our fighting allies. In order to provide for the financing and for the allocation to the United Nations of Canadian war production, a measure which will make provision for the establishment of a Canadian War Supplies Allocation Board will be submitted for your approval.

A Joint Committee representative of the Departments of Agriculture of Canada and the United States has been agreed upon to co-ordinate the efforts of the two countries in the production of food for the United Nations.

The immediate object of the United Nations is the defeat of the Axis powers. Joint planning of operations on a world scale has accompanied preparations for intensive warfare. The United Nations also aim at rendering aggression impossible in the future. Their governments, in addition to planning jointly for the prosecution of the war, have already entered into consultation regarding post-war problems. Achievement of their aims requires the establishment of conditions under which all peoples may enjoy equality of opportunity and a sense of security.

Every effort must be made to ensure, after the close of hostilities, the establishment, in useful and remunerative employment, of the men and women in our armed forces and in war industries. My Ministers have already begun to explore the international agreements and domestic measures which will help to secure adequate incomes for primary producers and full employment after the war. With your approval, the Select Committee on Reconstruction and Re-establishment, appointed at the last session, will be reconstituted.

It is in the general interest that freedom from fear and from want should be the assured possession of all. A nation-wide plan which would provide insurance against the inevitable consequences of economic and social hazards is essential if this objective is to be attained.

In Canada, a considerable measure of Social Security has already been provided through federal enactments establishing annuities, unemployment insurance, and pensions for the aged, the blind and for disabled veterans; and through provincial enactments related to accidents, sickness and hospitalization, widows' and mothers' allowances and maternity benefits. There is, however, no approach to a nation-wide plan of social security.

My Ministers believe that a comprehensive national scheme of social insurance should be worked out at once, which will constitute a charter of social security for the whole of Canada.

The Government accordingly proposes to recommend the early appointment of a Select Committee to examine and report on the most practicable measures of Social Insurance, and the steps which will be required to ensure their inclusion in a national plan. Among matters which will be referred to this Committee for study and consideration will be the establishment of a national system of Health Insurance.

In accordance with the provisions of the British North America Act you will be invited to consider a Bill for the redistribution of representation in the House of Commons.

You will be asked to make provision for the appointment of Parliamentary Assistants to those of my Ministers whose duties have become particularly onerous because of the demands of war.

Members of the House of Commons:

You will be asked to vote the necessary grants to enable our country to make its utmost contribution to the winning of the war.

Your attention will be invited at the earliest convenient date to the government's financial proposals. These will include the further development of the method of payment of the personal income tax in the year in which income is received, thus carrying to its logical conclusion the approach made last year to the collection of taxes on a current basis.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

We have reason to be profoundly grateful for the improved position of the United Nations. We must be careful, however, not to be misled by recent successes. The submarine menace has been growing, not diminishing. Decisive battles have still to be fought and won. For some time past, the movement of munitions and supplies overseas has been seriously restricted because of submarine activities. Until that grave menace is effectively controlled there is always the danger that reinforcements and supplies in sufficient volume may not reach the battle zones. As areas of conflict close in, fighting will increase in intensity and ferocity. The hardest battles, the heaviest sacrifices, may be in the future. Only the utmost sustained effort on the part of all the United Nations will ensure the defeat of the Axis powers.

In again inviting your careful consideration to the all important matters which will engage your attention, I pray that Divine Providence may guide and bless your deliberations.

The Commons withdrew.

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to retire.

The Senate was resumed.

The Honourable Senator King presented to the Senate a Bill intituled: "An Act relating to Railways."

The said Bill was read the first time.

The Honourable the Speaker informed the Senate that a copy of the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General had been left in his hands.

The same was read by the Honourable the Speaker.

On motion, it was—

Ordered, That the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General be taken into consideration on Tuesday, next.

The Honourable the Speaker presented to the Senate the Report of the Librarian of Parliament for the year 1942.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

LIBRARY OF PARLIAMENT

Report of the Librarian for 1942

To the Honourable the Speaker of the Senate:

The General Librarian of Parliament has the honour to submit to Parliament his report on the Library for the year 1942.

The Supplementary Catalogue of books donated and purchased during 1942 is in course of printing and will be distributed at an early date.

The General Librarian is grateful for many interesting donations and for the marked increase in the number of volumes received for copyright deposit.

There has been some delay in receiving publications ordered from England and the United States but the various departments of the library have been supplied as far as possible, with the best books published during the year.

The conditions in regard to the publication of French books are improving a little. While, of course, no books are received from France, more are now obtainable through the United States and Canada than formerly.

Particular attention has been given to the purchase of books that relate to the various aspects of the war, and the purely historical or literary volumes that have been considered standard works have been procured in sufficient numbers to satisfy the requirements of Members.

The Library has subscribed to the Library of Congress Catalogue of Printed Books. This catalogue is an author list of the books in the Library of Congress and will be issued in about 160 volumes. We have recently received volume 35 of the British Museum General Catalogue of Printed Books. This brings the work up to the word "Charles".

The Library has been very badly lighted for some months due to the difficulty in obtaining special electric globes used here.

The Librarian wishes to draw the attention of Senators and Members to the importance of returning the works borrowed from the Library, within a reasonable length of time, or when called upon to do so. Delay in this matter causes inconvenience to other Senators and Members who may require the missing volumes.

The undersigned desires to express his appreciation of the courtesies which he received in the discharge of his duties from the late Honourable George Parent, K.C., Speaker of the Senate, who died suddenly on the 14th of December, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

FÉLIX DESROCHERS,

General Librarian.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator King, it was—

Ordered, That all the Senators present during the Session be appointed a Committee to consider the Orders and Customs of the Senate and Privileges of Parliament, and that the said Committee have leave to meet in the Senate Chamber when and as often as they please.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator King, it was—

Ordered, That pursuant to Rule 77 the following Senators, to wit: The Honourable Senators Ballantyne, Beaubien (Montarville), Buchanan, Copp, Haig, Hugessen, Sinclair, White, and the mover be appointed a Committee of Selection to nominate Senators to serve on the several Standing Committees during the present Session; and to report with all convenient speed the names of the Senators so nominated.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator King, seconded by the Honourable Senator Ballantyne, it was;—

Ordered,—That for the duration of the present Session of Parliament, should an emergency arise during any adjournment of the Senate, which would in the opinion of the Honourable the Speaker warrant that the Senate meet prior to the time set forth in the motion for such adjournment, the Honourable the Speaker be authorized to notify Honourable Senators at their addresses registered with the Clerk of the Senate to meet at a time earlier than that set out in the motion for such adjournment, and non-receipt by any one or more Honourable Senators of such call shall not have any effect upon the sufficiency and validity thereof.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion, it was—

Ordered, That when the Senate adjourns to-day, it do stand adjourned until Tuesday, next, at eight o'clock in the evening.

The Senate adjourned.

And whereas such readjustment involves in fact the determination of the number of members to represent each province and the number of electoral divisions within each province and the delimitation of such electoral divisions;

And whereas Canada has been at war since September 10, 1939, and hostilities may continue for an indefinite period;

And whereas the census of 1941 was taken during the progress of hostilities; and whereas the effect of enlistment in the armed forces of Canada and of employment in the production of munitions of war has been to remove large numbers of the population from their homes to serve in and with such armed forces either in other parts of Canada or overseas or to reside temporarily in other parts of Canada;

And whereas experience has shown that such readjustment may give rise to sharp difference of opinion as to the appropriate delimitation of electoral divisions, which differences it is most desirable to avoid while Canada continues at war;

And whereas in these circumstances it does not now seem desirable that readjustment of representation on the basis of the census of 1941 should have to be made during the continuance of the hostilities in which Canada is now engaged,

A humble address be presented to His Majesty the King in the following words:—

PRAYERS.

The Honourable the Speaker presented to the Senate the first and final Report of the Joint Committee on the Library of Parliament.

The same was read by the Clerk, as follows:—

FIRST AND FINAL REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON THE LIBRARY OF PARLIAMENT

Your Committee begs to present its first and final report on the Library of Parliament.

Your Committee has held one meeting on July 22, 1943, and has received from the General Librarian a report which reads as follows:—

"Honourable members of the Committee probably would wish to know what actions have been taken to carry out the recommendations made at the last meeting. The report was presented to the Senate on the 31st May, 1939 (Senate Journals Vol. 77, 1939, pp. 294-5) and was concurred in, June 1, 1939 (p. 299). It was presented to the House of Commons on May 31, 1939 (House of Commons Journals Vol. 77, 1939, pp. 579-80) but never was concurred in. However some improvements were made:

1. Lighting:

The former reflectors in the main area under the dome were removed and an improved type installed and fitted with 500-watt lamps; but nothing has been done in the alcoves, and will not be done until after the war, according to a report made to me by Mr. Hickey, Supervisor of Electrical Engineering, on April 20, 1943.

2. Flooring:

According to a report made by Mr. C. D. Sutherland, Chief Architect, on April 14, 1943, nothing can be done in respect of the flooring until after the war.

3. Heating system:

Part of the heating system has been repaired. The steam system has been replaced by hot water all round the library; but the central part in the basement has not yet been done. This delay also is due to war conditions, according to a report of Mr. F. O. Hamel, Supervising Heating Engineer, on May 14, 1943.

4. Fire-fighting apparatus:

The old-fashioned fire-fighting apparatus has been replaced by 16 modern fire extinguishers. There are three hydrants in the library and 41 boxes containing sand.

5. Distribution Office:

The Chief of the Joint Parliamentary Distribution Office is now supplying the Library of Parliament with two copies of each official publication received at that branch for distribution.

6. Sunday hours:

According to the instructions of the Joint Committee the Library of Parliament continues the practice of keeping open on Sundays during the session from 4 to 6 o'clock p.m.

7. Congested state of Library:

Year after year since 1900 the need for more accommodation has been reiterated by the Librarians at the meetings of the Joint Committee on the Library and in their annual reports to Parliament.

All available space inside and outside the library has been used. Books are shelved two, and sometimes three deep—a condition which is the despair of the staff and the patrons of the library.

There are no means at present of securing any additional room in the library nor in any other building under the jurisdiction of the Public Works Department, as is evident from a report made to me on April 14, 1943, by C. D. Sutherland, Chief Architect.

To have a satisfactory modern organization many conditions would be required; these would involve:

- (a) Taking of inventories;
- (b) Recataloging the present collection;
- (c) Reclassification, etc.;
- (d) Shelf-listing, etc.;
- (e) Modern material and equipment; and
- (f) A sufficient staff, properly trained for these duties.

Such an undertaking would imply that there would be room for the extra clerks required and for the constant shifting and reshelving of books. Even to accommodate properly the actual number of books now owned by the library a great deal more space than that now used would be needed, as is evident from a report made to me on May 14, 1943, by Mr. C. D. Sutherland, Chief Architect.

The number of volumes is increased yearly by an average of 5,000 books, and of 165 bound newspaper volumes. Every bound newspaper volume requires the space of 30 ordinary books. As the library possesses actually about 12,000 volumes of bound newspapers this represents the space of 360,000 ordinary books.

The architectural plan of the present building makes it practically impossible to add to the shelving within the chamber, and absolutely impossible to enlarge the building itself.

In 1916 a plan was suggested to a building cut into the side of the cliff at the back of the present Parliamentary Library. According to a statement made to me on May 14, 1943, by Mr. C. D. Sutherland, Chief Architect, to build a similar building to-day would cost not less than $373,000, exclusive of fittings, elevator, and the special conveyer arrangement indicated on the drawings, which last feature appears to the Chief Architect as a rather impracticable arrangement. The building would take its heat from the Central Heating Plant, but it should be clearly understood that until the Central Heating Plant is extended, which will not be until after the war, it can supply no further heat to any building, as the present plant is already overloaded. Such a plan in any case, apart from being very expensive, still would leave much to be desired.

There is a third alternative. Let the Government adopt the policy of a National Library; erect a suitable building for its accommodation in some central locality; and remove from the Library of Parliament to the National Gallery all books and other material that would properly find a place in such an institution but which serve no very useful purpose in a purely legislative library.

Of the books at present crowded into the Library of Parliament probably two-thirds could be removed to a National Library. This would leave, say, 150,000 volumes in the Library of Parliament embracing all material which would have any definite value as legislative material. Any other work that might occasionally be required for parliamentary use would still be readily accessible in the National Library. Here, then, we would have 350,000 volumes as the nucleus of a Canadian National Library, a nucleus around which it would be possible in a few years to build a noble collection of books, and we would proceed to the whole reorganization of the library.

Then, too, it would be possible to deal with the problem of the other departmental libraries sustained by the Dominion of Canada. In all there are about 35 departmental libraries in Ottawa alone with a total number of about 750,000 volumes.

These libraries would continue to function for their legislative, judicial, departmental, or technical purposes as they now do, but should be co-ordinated into constituent parts of the scheme for a National or Dominion library. Duplicates of all cards should be deposited with the National Library which would thus possess a general or union catalogue of all the books owned by the Dominion Government.

I understand that at the present our attention must be centered on winning the war and on war activities. The carrying out of the plans herein above referred to, or any one of them, must necessarily be postponed until after final victory has been won.

I have deemed it my duty, however, to bring these facts to the attention of your Committee, for such action as you may deem expedient when circumstances will permit.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) FELIX DESROCHERS,
General Librarian."

Your Committee begs to submit the following recommendations:—

(1) That as soon as circumstances permit the Government should consider the desirability of creating a national library, and the maintenance of the existing library as a parliamentary library for the use of Honourable Senators and Members of Parliament.

(2) That the Rules of the Library be more strictly enforced; that books should be made available only to such persons as are mentioned in the said Rules of the Library; and that the Librarian be instructed to act accordingly.

(3) That the Librarian be instructed to have the Rules of the Library printed and displayed prominently in the library in such a way as to be readily seen by the public.

(4) That the Librarian be congratulated on his comprehensive report, and also that appreciation be expressed to him and to the staff of the library for the magnificent work they are carrying on under very trying circumstances, and the constant courtesy which they extend to all those who patronize our Parliamentary Library; and that the report of the Librarian be adopted.

(5) That the position of Parliamentary Librarian, left vacant by the death of Honourable Martin Burrell, be filled as soon as possible.

(6) That with a view to relieving the congestion in the library some suitable space be made available by the Department of Public Works in some convenient, fire-proof building in Ottawa to house the 12,000 bound newspaper volumes which occupy so much space and to which reference is rarely made; and that these bound newspaper volumes be moved out of the library at the earliest possible moment.

(7) That the rule of the library concerning the number of books which may be borrowed at any one time by the same person, and with respect to the period during which such person may retain such books, be strictly enforced; and that the Librarian be so instructed.

(8) That such temporary employees who so desire and who may be recommended by the Librarian be made permanent, and that the necessary steps be taken to that effect at the earliest possible moment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS VIEN,

*The Speaker of the Senate,
Joint Chairman.*

Ottawa, July 22, 1943.

Under Secretary of State.

Ordered, That the same be placed upon the Journals.

The Honourable the Deputy Governor General was pleased to close the Fourth Session of the Nineteenth Parliament of the Dominion of Canada with the following Speech:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

When the present session opened a year ago, the initiative taken by the United Nations gave promise of impressive victories. During the year, that promise has been fulfilled.

The Axis forces in North Africa have been destroyed. The European mainland has been invaded. Italy has surrendered unconditionally. On the long Russian front the armies of the Soviet Union have relentlessly driven back the Nazi invaders. The Japanese advance in the Southwest Pacific has been definitely halted. The invasion threats to Australia and New Zealand have been removed. On the mainland of Asia, the Chinese armies and people have continued to hold back the Japanese tide. The destructive enemy submarine campaign in the North Atlantic has been brought under control. On both sides of the globe the United Nations have maintained supremacy at sea, and gained ascendancy in the air.

To-day, in Italy, German forces, despite stubborn resistance, are being compelled to yield ground. In Russia, great German armies face unparalleled destruction. In southeastern Europe, there is growing unrest among Germany's satellite states. In the occupied countries, the people await the signal for open resistance. An ever-increasing aerial bombardment is destroying the war potential of Germany. It is bringing the war home to the German people.

In the campaign against the U-boats, Canada's Navy has had a prominent part. It has helped to maintain the bridge of ships across the Atlantic on which offensive action in Europe depends. During the year, all Allied naval forces in the Northwest Atlantic were placed under a Canadian Commander-in-Chief. Units of the Canadian Army were among the first to land in Sicily, and again on the mainland of Italy. In hard battles won and hundreds of miles of difficult ground taken, our soldiers have had their full share in the accomplishments of this important campaign. They have made a record unexcelled by fighting men. On the opposite side of the world, Canadian forces joined with those of the United States in the occupation of Kiska in the Aleutians. In the attacks upon the U-boats, in the aerial assaults against Germany and occupied Europe, and over battlefronts around the globe, increasing numbers of Canadian airmen continued to take a telling part.

During the Autumn, the Minister of National Defence visited Canada's overseas forces in Britain and in Italy. The transport of mail to the forces overseas has been greatly improved by the establishment of air mail services.

Provision of aid to our Allies continued to be a major factor in Canada's war effort. War supplies are being sent to Russia, to China, to French forces in Africa, as well as to the United Kingdom and other nations of the Commonwealth. They are supplied under the Mutual Aid legislation enacted during the present session, and are allocated by the Mutual Aid Board in accordance with strategic need. A considerable portion of Canada's mutual aid has been transported across the seas in Canadian built ships, manned by Canadian crews.

For more than a year, Canada has been sending wheat to Greece every month to aid in relieving the starving population. To assist in relieving famine conditions in Bengal, the government has also taken steps to ship Canadian wheat to India.

During the year, production reached the highest level in Canada's history. About half of the total has been devoted to war purposes. Farmers and fishermen have splendidly maintained the production of foodstuffs. No less devoted service has been given by those engaged in lumbering, mining, transportation and all branches of manufacture and distribution. Despite inevitable shortages, essential manpower needs of the armed forces, of industry, and of agriculture have been filled by voluntary methods and by national selective service. This has been facilitated by the patriotism and the skill of the vast majority of workers, both men and women, and by the co-operation of the provinces, local authorities and voluntary organizations.

When parliament adjourned in July, a measure had been enacted to provide for the establishment of a national council to promote physical fitness. Unemployment insurance had been extended to additional groups of workers, and provision had been made for an increase in the amount of old age pensions. Provision was also made for the collection of income taxes on a current basis.

In the session just concluded, careful study was given by Select Committees of both Houses, to the problem of full employment after the war, and, in particular, to the establishment in useful and remunerative employment of the men and women of our armed forces and in war industries. Careful study was similarly given by Select Committees on Social Security to the most practicable measures of social insurance, and the steps which would be required to ensure their inclusion in a national plan which itself would include the establishment of a nation-wide system of health insurance. My ministers have given close attention to the recommendations of the Select Committees and to other investigations in the fields of post-war reconstruction and social security.

During the course of the year, the price ceiling has been splendidly maintained. My Ministers have reaffirmed their determination to do all in their power to prevent inflation and to safeguard a basic standard of living. To this end the Wartime Wages Control Order has been simplified and strengthened. It will continue to be administered by the National War Labour Board. Consultation is proceeding with the several provinces regarding the enactment of a comprehensive code of labour relations which will be administered by a Wartime Labour Relations Board, and which will include the principle of compulsory collective bargaining.

Recognition of Canada's growing stature in international affairs has found expression in the expansion of our diplomatic and consular services, and in the agreements to raise Canada's missions to the United States, the Soviet Union, China, Brazil and Belgium, as well as the Legations of these countries in Canada, to the status of Embassies. Direct relations have been established with the French Committee of National Liberation. A Canadian representative with the personal rank of Ambassador now represents Canada at Algiers. The year has also witnessed increased representation of Canada at international conferences and on international boards concerned with wartime and post-war problems.

In the month of August, the Government was host to the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Great Britain and their advisers at a conference at Quebec. The Quebec Conference, like the earlier conference at Washington and the later conferences at Cairo and Teheran, was one of the milestones in the strategic planning of the war. Following the Conference at Quebec, Ottawa was honoured by a visit of the President. It was the first occasion on which a President of the United States has visited the Capital of Canada.

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you for the financial appropriations you have made for the prosecution of the war. Their magnitude is again without precedent.

I am pleased that you made special provision for the appointment of Parliamentary Assistants to Ministers of the Crown. I am glad that the hopes entertained of this development in the organization of Parliament have been so fully realized.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

You will have been deeply gratified that despite the increased level of taxation, the fourth and fifth Victory Loans met with an unprecedented public response. Clearer evidence could not have been given of the determination of the Canadian people to do their utmost in the winning of the war.

In bringing the present session to a close, I join with you in humble thanks to God for His merciful providence and for the increasing hope vouchsafed to the United Nations throughout this year of war.

The Honourable the Speaker of the Senate then said:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

It is the will and pleasure of the Honourable the Deputy Governor General that this Parliament be prorogued until to-morrow, the twenty-seventh day of January, to be here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued until tomorrow, at three o'clock in the afternoon.
